

Director Opportunities

Are you looking for board members for your organisation?

Assisting you in creating connections

The Australian Institute of Company Directors together with Volunteering SA & NT Inc are delighted to host a Cocktail Party as part of the Emerging Directors Series.

This enjoyable evening will provide not-for-profit organisations with the prospect to expand networks and find board members by having direct contact with a group of 'new and emerging' company directors.

With the plethora of skills these emerging directors possess, this is a unique opportunity that should not be missed, whether you are looking for board members now, or in the future.

Places are limited, and we are accepting registrations immediately.
