SUBJECT: Employer of the Year Award

On Friday 7 November 2008, SafeWork SA held its annual dinner, at which the Safe Work Awards for 2008 were presented in relation to occupational health, safety and welfare, and safe work practices in the workplace.

Eldercare was awarded the Employer of the Year Award by the Industrial Relations Minister, Paul Caica, and we are delighted to have received the award.

This has resulted following an enormous amount of work by everyone in the organisation and in ensuring that we all have a safe workplace, and that when incidents do occur, that these are appropriately and correctly followed up, and remedial action put into place.

This award follows closely on Eldercare's successful application to WorkCover for Worker's Compensation Self Insurance status, which we have now received.

I wish to congratulate all those involved in making sure that Eldercare is a safe workplace, and in particular to all the committee members of all the occupational health and safety committees within Eldercare. In particular, I would like to give a special mention to Chris Racar and Chris Pelvin, who have been leading the culture change within Eldercare that led to Eldercare being recognised as Employer of the Year.
