Dementia Workshop - Special Guest Speaker in NT

11th June 2009

Dr Helen Donovan

Consultant Clinical Psychologist, Bedfordshire and Luton Partnership NHS Trust, UK

Will present a workshop on “Cognitive Stimulation Therapy (CST) for Dementia” – a brief introduction for clinical staff interested in running CST groups for people with dementia, including background of CST research and development, content of the group programme, role-playing of some of the exercises, and discussion of the pragmatic and clinical issues that can arise when implementing the group programme.

Dr Donovan trained as a clinical psychologist at the University of Western Australia in the early nineties and began working with older people in Perth in 1998, moving to the UK in 2002. In 2006 she worked together with Dr Aimee Spector to develop the delivery and evaluation of Cognitive Stimulation Therapy for people with dementia living in the community in the local area of the Trust, and has continued to expand and co-ordinate the local delivery of CST since that time. She is now a member of the Project Steering Committee for the SHIELD project (Support at Home: Interventions to Enhance Life in Dementia) headed by Professor Martin Orrell at University College London, which includes a multi-centre trial of Maintenance Cognitive Stimulation Therapy. She has also delivered the approved Cognitive Stimulation Therapy training to staff across a number of health and social care organisations in the UK.
